

T.V. is still the main source of news for Americans. Further consolidating the ownership of stations would be a disservice to the public. We need more diversity in ownership not less.